HUMOROUS ITEMS.

A Western editor consoled a man who complained that justice had not been done him, by the remark that it was "very lucky for him."

A lover being requested by his sweet heart to get a pair of shoes in the city, inquired by note if she wanted them "Round or Square Toad," to which she answered, "Neither but Peaked."

A traveler relating his adventures told the company that he and his servant made fifty wild Arabs run, which, startling them, he observed that there was no great merit in that, "for" said he, "we ran, and they ran after us."

In Nevada a contemplative Digger Indian sat watching a party of baseball players, who seemed to him to be working very hard. Turning to one of them, he asked: "How much you get one day?"

A precocious boy in a public school out West, who stands high in geography, was recently asked by his teacher where Africa was located. He promptly answered, "all over the United States."

Two Quaker girls were ironing on the same table. One asked the other what she would take, the right or left. She answered very promptly, "It will be right for me to take the left, then it will be left for thee to take the right."

"Man proposes, but God disposes" said a pious aunt to her over-confident niece. "Let a man propose to me if he dare," was the response, "and I will dispose of him according to my own views as he suits me."

"Faith," said Pat, as he was going along the street with a bag of cheese, "if anybody will tell me how many cheeses I have in my bag, I'll give him the whole three." "I guess you have three," said a Yankee. "Take them," said Pat, "and may the devil maul the soul of him wat tould yees."

A practical joker in Providence, R. I., the other day engaged and paid five hand-organists to play one hour before the door of a nervous butcher. They did it, despite the offer of the butcher to pay them $1 each to go away, and against all his entreaties and threats. Each organ played a different tune, and the combination was something terrific.

The chairman of an Iowa vigilance committee, who was instructed to duck an obnoxious citizen, thus reported to his constituents: "We took the thief down to the river, made a hole in the ice, and proceeded to duck him; but he slipped through our hands and hid under the ice. All our efforts to entice him to come out failed, and he has now retained his advantage some hours."

"Du THEY."—A wager was laid that it was a Yankee peculiarity to answer one question by another. To sustain the assertion a down Easter was interrogated. "I want you," said the better "to give me a straight forward answer to a plain question."

"I kin do it mister," said the Yankee. "Then why is it New Englanders always answer a question by asking one?" "Du they?" was Jonathan's reply?"

"Man wants but little here below nor wants that little long," is a libel; man wants everything he can see, or here ov, and never is willing to let go of his grab. Whenever yu find a man who is thoroughly satisfied with what he has got yu will find either an idiot, or one who haz tried hard to git some more and couldn't do it. The older a man grows, the more wantful he becomes, az hiz hold on life slackens, hiz pinch on a dollar grows gripply.

A lawyer once came into court drunk, when the judge said to him:

"Sir, I am sorry to see you in a situation which is a disgrace to yourself and family, the court, and the profession to which you belong."

This reproach elicited the following colloquy:

"Did your honor speak to me?" "I did, sir. I said, sir, that in my opinion, you disgrace yourself and family the court, and the profession, by your course of conduct."

"May i-i-it please your honor, I have been an attorney in-in-in this court for fifteen years; and permit to say, your honor, that this is the first correct opinion I ever knew you to give!"
